Beautiful Paintings Adorn Walls of St. Rose Church.

Last week there arrived from abroad fourteen oil paintings representing sorrowful scenes in the last week of Christ's life.

These paintings are being greatly appreciated by the people who have seen them.

Everybody is welcome to come to St. Rose's church and spend some time in quiet contemplation of these sorrowful dramas and tragedies portrayed by a christian artist on canvases.

There is only another such set in a church of Cincinnati. People from far and near have gone there attracted by those master oil paintings which must be studied to be appreciated.

No Christian can view these paintings without being touched with deepest sympathy towards our Christ Savior.

ROAD TO ROSSFORD

County Commissioners Will Give State Funds for Construction.

The commissioners have passed a resolution agreeing to give the balance of the money received from the state for good roads from the 1914 levy and all of the 1915 levy, or half of the expense of construction, provided it is not more than $50,000, for the building of a tar-bound macadam road from the northern part of the village of Perrysburg to the Perrysburg township line, which will make it join the Ross township brick road. The township is to arrange to take care of the other half of the expense.

BOOST THE BAND.

"The New" Perrysburg Citizens Band, which was reorganized last fall with 18 pieces, have been holding band practice every Monday night during the winter and are now in excellent shape for giving concerts during the summer. A number of instruments have been purchased by the members, and the only thing lacking to make it a "real band" are suitable uniforms. The committee recently appointed to arrange some entertainment for the citizens of Perrysburg in order to raise a fund with which to procure the same, are: Grant Sarver, Harry Charles, Louis Finch and S. L. Shepard. The committee reported last evening, that they had arranged to produce a play in the near future, entitled, "Just Plain Folks," a three comedy, Rural Drama, which will be presented by the Ideal Dramatic Club, of Toledo, under the direction of Chas. F. Adams, who has produced this play in New York and New Jersey a number of times.

This will be a treat to all the folks who enjoy a "clean cut" entertainment. Two hours of humor and quaint sayings. A sure cure for the blues.

Special scenery will be used in the production and the patrons will have the pleasure of witnessing a stage setting seldom surpassed by professionals.

A number of business men have agreed to give their hearty support in making this the most successful entertainment ever pulled off in Perrysburg. The play will be given two nights. Watch for the dates.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Concerning Nothing Very Serious But Worthy of Thought.

In these days when reform and reformers, directors of other people's thoughts and actions, and censors of every style and condition are endeavoring to run the world according to their own ideas, the following lines from the Lamar (Colo.) Sparks, are very apropos: Believe as I believe, no more, no less; That I am right, and no one else, confess;

Feel as I feel, think only as I think; Eat what I eat, and drink but what I drink; Look as I look, do always as I do, And then, and only then, I'll fellowship with you.

That I am right, and always right, I know, Because my own convictions tell me so; And to be right is simply this to be Entirely and in all respects like me; To question, doubt, or hesitate, is sin. I reverence the Bible if it be Translated first and then explained by me;

By churchly laws and customs I abide, If they with my opinions coincide, All creeds and doctrines I admit divine, Excepting those which disagree with mine.

Let sink the drowning if he will not swim Upon the plank that I throw out to him; Let starve the hungry if he will not eat My kind and quality of bread and meat; Let freeze the naked if he will not be Clothed in such garments as are made for me.

'Twere better that the sick should die than live, Unless they take the medicine I give; 'Twere better sinners perish than refuse

To be conformed to my peculiar views: 'Twere better that the world stand still than move In any other way than that which I approve.

Tippecanoe City, Ohio, lost more than $5,000 on its municipal water and light plant last year, according to a writer in Public Service Magazine.

It's all very well for the wise weather men to announce the arrival of Spring at 11:43 a. m. on Sunday last, but the snow that covered the earth on Monday morning took all the "Spring beauties" out of our system.

How long, Oh, how long, will the little mounds erected by the deposed street commissioner be permitted to remain on Front Street?

This Journal always to the fore-front with pertinent suggestions, offers a few refrains, around each of which our finest little song carpenters are invited, even challenged, to construct full-fledged lyrics. And, that we may not be charged with partiality, we will include all other warring countries.

TO THE HOUSEWIFE.

Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when it has a cold. If you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effectual, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

INSPECT FORT MEIGS

Legislators Visit Historic Place and Favor Improvements.

That the Ft. Meigs property will not drop into oblivion is evidenced by the interest manifested by the members of the Ohio legislature who visited the property on Sunday last.

The members of the House finance committee of the Ohio legislature visited the site of the old fort, built in 1813 to repulse the invasion of the country by the British, French and Indians.

They were favorably impressed with the imposing appearance of the time-worn ruins of what was one of the country's most important western forts of the war of 1812.

The majority of the committee announced their intention of favoring an appropriation of something like $5000 with which to make the desired improvements.

The committee were given an auto ride to Perrysburg on Sunday by members of the Toledo Automobile Club under direction of Mr. Eugene Rheinfrank, President and Mr. C. C. Kilbury, Secretary of the Club, and after visiting the Fort they went over to Maumee where they were joined by members of the Maumee Valley Pioneer and Historical Association and the Fort Meigs Commission of which Dr. W. H. Rheinfrank and Mr. D. K. Hollenbeck of Perrysburg are members.

A thorough inspection of the site of the old fort was made. A trip aloft was made over the proposed route for the boulevard, to be built about the river-side of the fort.

The tour of inspection terminated at the Seurin hotel where dinner was served.

Mr. Rheinfrank, Mr. Hollenbeck and others outlined to the committee in after-dinner talks the improvements desired at Fort Meigs, reviewed the history of the place, its popularity, and improvements made, and requested that the committee favor an appropriation to surround the site with facilities that will permit it to be seen by the thousands of visitors.

As a result of suggestions made during the trip a museum will be started at the fort. Thousands of relics of the two sieges of the fort are owned by persons hereabouts. They are to be urged to affix their names to these and either loan or donate them to the Fort Meigs museum. Special provisions are to be made to protect and preserve the relics.

Perrysburg people should feel indebted to the Toledo Automobile Club for taking such interest in affairs that are of importance to our village.

He was a member of the G. A. R. He leaves a wife.—Toledo Blade.

FOR THE STOMACH AND LIVER.

I. N. Stuart, West Webster, N. Y., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and liver off and on for the past five years, and it affords me pleasure to state that I have found them to be just as represented. They are mild in their action and the results have been satisfactory. I value them highly." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

BUILD GOOD ROADS

The Age of Progress Demands Only the Best

This has been called, and rightly, an age of progress. We are no longer willing to hearken back to our fathers and grand-fathers, who said, when an improvement was contemplated, "No! This is alright for me. It was good enough for our parents, so I guess it will do for us also." We have grown tired of hearing this oft repeated saying, and the desire to be up and doing with the generation, which is advancing, has taken hold of us.

Not many years ago, any old road at all was a road. Such things as GOOD ROADS were unheard of, and if mentioned at all, were immediately classed among the luxuries of dreams. So were the automobile, the steam engine, and all the other products of our advancing age, likewise treated as dreams, when they were first spoken of, but we have seen them come true, and, even so is our dream of GOOD ROADS an inevitable conclusion.

Formerly, the farmer was compelled to haul his produce to the city, choosing the day when the road he must take was in a passable state. Perhaps the trip was a long one, made longer and harder by the condition of the road, so that a day was required for the trip, most of which was spent in coming and going. He had to arise earlier than usual, and did not arrive home until late, thus losing an entire day, which might have been spent in a more remunerative manner. GOOD ROADS change all this.

Formerly, the farmer, taking his wares to the city market, could only carry a small or medium sized load. He could not get through the roads with a large one, for his wagon sinking into the mud which covered them and of which they were composed, for that matter, the strain would prove too great for his horses. GOOD ROADS change all this.

Let us be satisfied no longer with the things that were good enough for our parents and their parents before them, but join the spirit of the times, and demand the things that will be good enough for us. Let us have GOOD ROADS. Let us be only satisfied with the best, we of Perrysburg, its township, and Wood County. GOOD ROADS are for each and every one of us.
